Bles singled over second, Post going to third. Rooney drove one down to third too hot to handle sending Post home and Bles to third. Jastram came along with a timely single to right and Bles crossed the plate. A sharp double play on a line pick up engineered by Oakes to short to third, catching Rooney and Jastram off their bases terminated the inning. 3 runs, a fumble, a passed ball and an error at short, let Poller complete the circuits in the sixth inning. 1 run after Barnard had been retired at first in the eighth inning, Poller tripled to right center and by fast sprinting slid safely in to third. Kramer scored him on an out; short stop to first. Post straightened one of Lett's curves for three bases, the ball sailing far out in left field. Bles followed with a double and Post trotted home. Rooney filed to right. Two runs.

Bies Pitches A Shut Out. His Teams Aid In Batting Out Victory

Monday's game found Helge Bies occupying the pitcher's box, which was his first appearance on the mound in a full game since hustling for Pueblo, in the Western League, before coming to Rhineland. To show that he had not forgotten his cunning as a twirler, he shut out the opposing team without a single run, struck out twelve men, lacking one from Rooney's record of the day before and allowed but six hits.

Rhinelanders Gives Oshkosh Drubbing

Rooney Pitches Remarkable Game Sunday. Oshkosh Secures One Hit Blanked Without a Run

Under the most unfavorable weather conditions and threatening a snow storm or downpour of rain at any moment, Rhinelanders defeated the crack team from Oshkosh last Sunday by the decisive score of 6 to 0. The spectators, of which there was a surprising crowd, despite the cold wind, huddled closely together in the grand stand and bleachers, braving the almost zero weather throughout the contest, convincing evidence of the devotion of the true base ball "fan" to the fascination of the clean and healthful national pastime.

On the firing line Southpaw Rooney, for Rhinelanders was at his best and easily pitched his team to victory. Twirling marvelous ball in every inning and receiving fine support from his team mates, the visitors were allowed one, lone single, a clean hit by Oakes, over third base. Only thirty-one men faced Rooney, thirteen being retired on strikes. In the seventh inning, after Price had flown to Poller in left field, Waymouth grounded to Kramer at second. The latter made a neat stop and pick up, but in his haste threw wildly to first, permitting the batter to take second. Not another chance did he have to advance a base; Rooney tightened up, fanning the next two men as deliberately as he had mowed down the opposing side on fifteen pitched balls in the innings preceding.

The locals opened up as though the game was a walk a way, but Lett, the Oshkosh pitcher, steadied down after the first inning and pitched fairly good ball. With better support from his team, Rhinelanders was entitled to, four of its six runs, the other two being charged to costly errors of short and second base. Poller opened Rhinelanders' half, of first inning with a clean single to center, was cleverly sacrificed to second by Kramer and scored on an error of Price at short, from Post's bat.

WEDDINGS

Pfeifer-Reynolds
At eight o'clock, Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church, the marriage of Miss Mary Reynolds and George Pfeifer was solemnized by High Mass. There was a harp and violin accompaniment to the music. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers.

The bride wore a white satin gown and carried bride's roses. She was accompanied by her sister Anna as bride's maid. Her brother Will acted as best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and soon after the newly wed couple left for Austin, Ill., where they will make their future home. The bride is much admired and well known in this city, having received her education in our public schools.

Later she attended Roosevelt Hospital in Chicago and became a trained nurse, following her profession up to a few weeks ago. Mr. Pfeifer is an electric engineer. The best wishes of many go with the young couple.

Some of the best posted politicians say "It is the policy of the so-called Taft Republicans to oust Fairchild and nominate Davidson next Tuesday, at the convention. It will depend on what Mr. Phillip wishes. It is a familiar sight to see Phillip of 'Red Hook' fame trying to run the politics of the state.

The irony of fate was such that while Wm. Lorimer, U. S. Senator from Illinois was denouncing Governor Deussen for trying to ruin him that a prominent man of the Illinois state legislature was confessing that he received twenty-five hundred dollars bribe money to vote for Mr. Lorimer for U. S. Senator. The exposure of the bribery cases in Illinois ought to make the man sit up and think who advocates the election of U. S. Senator by the legislature.

MADISON LETTER.

At their meeting in Milwaukee on the 24th, the so-called "Taft Republicans" decided to call a state convention to meet on the 5 of June. They also issued the following statement which indicates the purpose of the convention:

"The time has come when the Republicans of this state should choose representatives who are not office seekers or office holders to agree upon principles."

The convention which made this high sounding declaration was composed of twenty-three (skiddoo) men among whom are the following:

1. John M. Whitehead, State Senator; defeated candidate for Governor in 1902.
 2. L. H. Farncroft, member of Assembly; Ex-Assistant Attorney General; prospective candidate for Attorney General.
 3. J. C. Gaveney, Ex-State Senator, defeated for reelection.
 4. O. W. Johnson, Ex-State Senator defeated for reelection.
 5. C. E. Estebrook, member of Assembly; Ex-Attorney General.
 6. George H. Gordon, United States District Attorney.
 7. H. H. Morgan, Assistant United States District Attorney.
 8. E. H. Henning, Assistant United States District Attorney.
 9. F. R. Bently, United States Revenue Collector.
 10. M. J. Wallrich, Ex-member of Assembly.
 11. R. A. Etter, Postmaster at Monroe.
 12. O. H. Folk, Ex-Adjutant General, Peck's administration.
 13. W. A. Jones, Ex-member of Assembly; Ex-Indian Commissioner.
 14. Solon L. Perrin, defeated candidate for State Senator.
 15. E. L. Phillip, Chief of Eleventh Story League; railroad lobbyist; wants to be United States Senator.
- At least six of the above named gentlemen received money from the Stephenson campaign fund and some of them, notably Gordon, Perrin and Barenton, gave the Investigating Committee a very incomplete statement of what they did with the money. Those receiving money and the amounts received, as evidenced by the testimony taken by the Investigating Committee are as follows:
- Barenton, $250.00; Morgan, $276.00;

Etter, $390.00; Gaveney, $275.00; Gordon, $1500.00; Perrin, $600.00.

These are the "Taft Republicans," the boosters of Aldrich and Cannon, the defenders of Ballinger and Wickliffe, who propose to agree upon Republican principles because, they assert, it should not be done by office holders or office seekers.

FRANK T. TUCKER

Candidate for Attorney General. His Work as a Law Enforcer

New London Republican—"Mr. Tucker is our choice and we pledge him such support as we may be able to give. We have watched his course and know that his career has been clean all the way. He has been tested for ability and integrity in public place and he has measured right up to every expectation and every requirement.

For four years he served the state as law examiner; for the past three years he has been assistant attorney general.

Some years ago when the general rottenness of conditions at Hurley were made known and a political house-cleaning was demanded by the decent citizens of that city, Governor LaFollette put the broom into Mr. Tucker's hands and told him to go ahead with the cleaning. The task was no easy one. It required ability of a high order, political and personal cleanness that was unassailable, integrity that was impeccable and courage that was dauntless. These qualities Mr. Tucker possessed and Hurley was made cleaner through the ousting from office of the county sheriff and district attorney as a result of his prosecution. More recently, Governor Davidson assigned to Mr. Tucker the prosecution of the graft cases at Green Bay and many convictions resulted therefrom.

We are glad Mr. Tucker has entered the race and hope to see him nominated and elected.

HOPE TO UNSEAT
SPEAKER CANNON

INSURGENTS LIKELY TO MAKE
SENSATIONAL ATTACK ON HIM
AND RULES.

DEMOCRATS ARE LUKEWARM

Many Favor Retention of Autocratic System—Unsatisfactory Ending of Ballinger-Pinchot Inquiry—Success of Fight on the Rate Bill.

Washington.—Congressman Fowler is not to press his resolution providing for the creation of a committee on committees in the house of representatives with one member from each of 14 geographical districts of equal population.

Instead of forcing his own plan to an issue in the house, Mr. Fowler will work with the other insurgents in carrying forward a plan, to be arranged in conference, for again bringing Cannonism into the limelight. The plan being worked out will probably result in a sensational attack on both Cannon and the rules, to be made just prior to the end of the present session, which will bring about not only the destruction of the last of the speaker's power over legislation through his appointment of committees, but will also force the deposition of Cannon from the speakership.

While the regulars are publicly declaring that they have no plan for defeating Progressives in their districts and talking peace and party harmony for newspaper consumption, the Progressives take no stock in this sort of talk. Recently, for instance, it was announced through the medium of inspired articles in Organization papers, that the Republican congressional committee would treat both regulars and Progressives alike in the coming campaign.

Call Proposition Absurd.

This newspaper bid for party harmony is ridiculed by the Progressives. The idea of the party organization being for Cannonism in one district and against Cannonism in another, for Aldrichism in one state and against it in another, they say, is superlatively absurd, and they do not propose to have any part in such a dishonest and silly program. They accept Cannon's defiance that if he is a Republican, they are not, and they are going into the campaign with the idea of proving to the rank and file of the party that they are Republicans and that Cannon and Aldrich are not Republicans.

Back of the bid for harmony, however, it is believed there has been a hope on the part of the house machine and the "regulars" of placating the Progressives to the extent of heading off any further attacks on Cannon and Cannonism in the house during the present session. Not that the "regulars" generally are so much opposed to the fight against Cannon being carried to a climax. In fact, there are many regulars who will vote against a resolution to unseat Cannon as speaker, when it is renewed within a few weeks, who will be secretly happy if such a resolution is carried.

and the Danville veteran is ousted from the chair.

Position of the Democrats.

It is no secret that if the Progressives could now be induced to unseat Cannon and let it go at that, there would be joy in the "regular" camp, both Republican and Democratic. Not only the Republican "regulars," but many of the Democrats, are opposed to reforming the rules in such a way as to destroy the power of the speaker. They are willing to unload Cannon, but unwilling to destroy the system which makes Cannonism.

As the Democrats become more certain each week that they are going to control the next house, a large number of them are each week growing lukewarm over the fight against the rules. If they are to have the next speaker, they say, they want him to have the same power Cannon has had. For this reason, the Progressives find that to carry the fight against the rules to a successful issue at this session, they have got to overcome, not only the opposition of the Republican machine in the house, but that of many of the Democrats.

Ballinger Inquiry Dropped.

Upon the advice of Senator Root the taking of testimony in the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry was brought suddenly to a close. Before departing for Europe, Senator Root had a big conference with the president, at which he gave the advice that the Ballinger matter be dropped as quickly as possible. The next day Mr. Vertrees announced he had no other witnesses to call, and after examining one witness in rebuttal Mr. Brandeis closed the case for Mr. Glavis. This conclusion was unexpected. Coming as it did, it is accepted as an abandonment of the case by the secretary of the interior, who will rely upon a vote in the committee rather than upon evidence, to clear himself of the charges which have been made against him. Progressives in congress accept the actions as a confession, and as the expression of a desire upon the part of the secretary to avoid further publicity.

Leaving the case without any attempt to meet the charges contained in the Kerby testimony has left a decidedly bad impression. The Kerby testimony is uncontradicted and the revelations of the stenographer unexplained. If what Kerby said was untrue there was no reason for failure to call Mr. Massey, the other stenographer. He was not placed upon the stand. Massey, however, it is understood, was put through the "third degree" in the department, and the failure to call him may be due to the fact that he could not remember the details of the preparation of the Lawler memorandum to be different from those presented by Mr. Kerby.

Vertrees Afraid of Testimony?

One M. Carr, Mr. Ballinger's private secretary, played a conspicuous part in the preparation of the memorandum and had an intimate knowledge of Secretary Ballinger's correspondence, but Mr. Vertrees did not believe it prudent to put him on the stand.

Mr. Ballinger has not come forward with any explanation of the correspondence he had with George M. Perkins, of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., relative to the purpose of the latter to "exploit Alaska." The large financial interests of the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate as testified to by their own engineers make the confidential relationship between the secretary of the interior and the manager of that syndicate a matter of grave public concern. To close the testimony without any effort at explanation is accepted in the capital as an admission that no explanation that would be plausible can be furnished, or of fear lest further cross-questioning would develop the existence of evidence even more damaging than that which has been brought to light.

From the viewpoint of Mr. Ballinger it may have been desirable not to elucidate the Perkins correspondence, or to take any chances in again subjecting employees of the interior department or the secretary himself, to the cross-examination of Mr. Brandeis. The committee, however, was appointed for the purpose of arriving at the truth without references to the wishes of the secretary of the interior or any one. This is theoretically the situation, and if the committee does not upon its own initiative place these witnesses and Mr. Perkins upon the stand and question them in regard to the developments which came from the Kerby testimony, there is sure to be some hard criticism of the committee on the floors of congress, not only for the manner in which witnesses were examined during the taking of the testimony, but because of failure to pursue the inquiry along the lines which the testimony indicated would develop material of vital public interest.

Aldrich Proposal Rejected.

Senator Cummins' amendment to the rate bill by which no increases in rates are to become effective until the Interstate Commerce commission determines the proposed increases to be reasonable, was another rock upon which the Aldrich machine went to pieces for the time being in the senate. While the amendment was pending Senator Aldrich made a desperate effort to arrive at an agreement with the Democrats in regard to fixing a time for a vote.

A written memorandum was prepared for the Democratic members to sign. Under the agreement the Democrats were promised that a statehood bill such as they favor would be passed by the senate. This was a strong inducement to the Democrats.

Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona in all probability means the addition of four Democrats to the United States senate. Some of the Democrats argued that they would be justified in doing anything in order to get this measure, but wiser counsels prevailed.

The agreement also included not only the fixing of a date upon the bill but that no amendment should be accepted other than those which were proposed by the committee and that all the pending amendments of other senators should be voted down. It was also provided that Sections 12, 14 and 15, the capitalization sections of the bill, which are particularly objectionable to the Democrats, should be eliminated. There were some Democratic senators who were perfectly willing to agree to the terms.

Progressive Tactics Succeeded.

The success of the continued attacks of the Progressives is due to the fact that they have not permitted any part of the bill to be accepted without full discussion as to its effect. They have not secured all that they want in the bill, and they have not succeeded in making sufficient changes thus far so that they can say with absolute certainty that it will be in such form as to permit of their voting for it, but they have improved it and they have improved it in the face of the stubborn opposition of Aldrich and his friends. The tory organization of the senate was compelled to give way upon the merger section, upon the traffic agreement section, and upon the long and short haul section. They were compelled to make concessions upon the question of the right of the shipper to appearance in court in proceedings reviewing the orders of the Interstate Commerce commission. And it is now apparent that before the bill is passed they will be compelled to make other concessions. There is a growing feeling in the senate that there will not be any railroad legislation. The combination of Progressive Republicans and Democrats who are forcing the perfection of the bill may not be able to put the measure through. The reason for this condition is that there are a number of Democrats who are opposed to the bill in any form and even if it is perfected so as to conform to the ideas of the Progressive leadership it may still fail of passage because in that form it may not command the votes of the tory organization and these, united with the Democrats, would be sufficient to defeat it.

For Twenty-Six Years

Mrs. Lamaster, of Kentucky, Suffered with Internal Catarrh and was Finally Relieved by Peruna.

MRS. W. W. LAMASTER.

"I SUFFERED for twenty-six years with bladder and kidney trouble, and being advised to give Peruna a trial, I did so, and am thankful to say that eight bottles of Peruna and three bottles of Manalin entirely cured me of that trouble, and I am as well as ever."—Mrs. W. W. Lamaster, 3127 McAtee Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Catarrh Causes Kidney Disease. Catarrh is a frequent cause of kidney disease. The pelvis of the kidneys, as well as the tubules, is lined with mucous membrane, and is therefore subject to catarrhal congestion. Sometimes the catarrh is so slight as to cause no attention. Other times it leads up to very serious conditions.

Any remedy capable of mitigating the catarrh is a much more rational treatment than to give palliatives that only relieve the patient of one or more disagreeable symptoms.

It is claimed for Peruna that it is an internal systemic catarrh remedy, and reaches the catarrh in whatever organ it happens to be located.

"I was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the bowels by taking Peruna. I am glad to recommend Peruna to any one."—Mrs. J. J. Cross, 553 Water St., San Antonio, Texas.

GOAT RAISING PAYING VENTURE

Market So Good That National Organization Is Contemplated
Sheboygan goat owners are agitating a movement to form a goat breeders' association which promises to become a national organization. E. G. Gontzenbach, manager of the Sheboygan Light, Power and Railway company who first introduced his famous Swiss goats in that city is receiving letters from about the state and several encouraging letters have been received from other states.

Sheboygan breeders have received inquiries from Massachusetts, Washington, Tennessee and other parts of the country relative to purchasing the animals raised there and breeders say there is a market for all they can raise.

At present Sheboygan's goats are producing in the neighborhood of 500 quarts of milk a day. A good goat will give from two to four quarts of milk each day and live and thrive where a cow would starve. Not only that, but the little animals live in many cases, entirely on table scraps, weeds and kitchen waste, and the cost of keeping them is comparatively small. The milk from these animals is believed to be absolutely free from tuberculosis and exceptionally good for infants.

Had I continued their use as I should, I would be well today. I suffered for several years from kidney trouble. There were severe pains in my back and sides and my heart seemed to be affected. At times I could hardly get my breath and I felt as if I were choking. The kidney secretions were unnatural and my kidneys were sore. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief in a short time. I heartily recommend this remedy to other kidney sufferers."

OBSERVATIONS FROM WESTERN TRIP

Ex-Mayor Stapleton Tells Personal Experiences of Western Conditions.

I have made quite a few trips through the United States in different directions but never before did I find people generally so much dissatisfied with their home surroundings. Since leaving home till I returned I traveled over 6000 miles, and if conditions, such as I heard from the people, continue, our next generation will be a band of roving Gypsies. I passed through Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho and Washington. All are looking for new homes. A bunch of Minnesota people left St. Paul on the same train with me to buy homes in Mexico. Iowa people are buying in Kansas. Kansas people are moving to Texas and Montana. Colorado people generally are seeking homes in California, Oregon and Washington. Oregon people, I found, are looking up Alaska and Canada lands. So you see the conditions in Wisconsin are not any different from the other states. There was a time when they said "No place like home" but today it is "Any old place but this place."

Speaking of Kansas, we have heard so many wet orators on the platform telling how much liquor is drunk in Kansas, a prohibition state, and what drunkenness there is there. I passed through Kansas from east to west twice in the last month. I never saw a drunken man; never saw a man have a bottle of whiskey. The people looked contented and happy. The laboring men are well dressed and look as though they were well fed. The people of Kansas and some of the other western states place great value on the soul, mind and body of their young people and believe that, in order to make good citizens of them, the soul, mind and body must be kept clean and pure, at least until they become of age.

They know this can not be done with a saloon in the city where a public or state school is conducted. Therefore, the tax-payers are determined that if they pay the expense of educating the future citizens that the graduates from these schools will be at least an improvement morally over the old Indian chief, whose main ambition was to keep his stomach full of whiskey and his mouth full of tobacco and foul language. They know that the American state can not exist, certainly can not thrive, without solid morality.

The weather on my trip was about the same through all of the states. I could wear an overcoat every day with comfort, excepting Sunday, May 15, at Portland, was a beautiful day. The nights generally were cold, almost a frost.

As to the conditions of crops, could see no great difference between Wisconsin and Oregon or the other states that I passed through, excepting in eastern Kansas and northwestern Missouri and southern Iowa. They seem to be somewhat more advanced there than in other states.

The uneasiness seems to be caused a great deal by men with a capital of $100.00 to $200.00 that have held good positions in the past and are too cowardly to dare invest in business of some kind and leave their positions open to other and poorer men. This seems to be the general condition among that class whether they hold city or county office or hold positions with factories or mills. They dare not go into business for themselves. Wherever you go all are looking for work and but few men in each place control the factories that furnish the labor.

Wisconsin today, I believe, has the best openings for men with limited amount of means, the best and cheapest lands for a poor man to buy and make a home. When you think of paying from $200.00 to $250.00 an acre for lands out west and then pay for the water at the rate of $10.00 per acre, for one inch you commence to realize what it costs to make a home in that country, besides paying the expense of building gutters or ditches to distribute the water over the lands. In Wisconsin a man can buy 40 to 160 acres of land, by making a small payment on the same and when he is hard up his neighbor has work at good wages for him. I do not say this because I have lands to sell in northern Wisconsin. The laboring men are well content for we were lucky enough when lands were cheap in Oregon to buy 16,000 acres. But I believe that after a man spends his money to take an honest look at the western country he will decide to stay in northern Wisconsin.

MATT STAPLETON.

The Conservation Of Nature's Resources

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Bud'ong, Washington, R. I., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."

COME TO OSHKOSH

5,000 Men Wanted Steady Employment Good Wages

A wonderful opportunity for you to secure better wages. The City of Oshkosh has entered upon a period of growth that is phenomenal. Workmen in all lines can find immediate employment.

OSHKOSH is the city of greatest opportunity for the workman today. You can find employment there at once. The new industries locating in Oshkosh, the rapid expansion of present factories, the great increase in building operations, offer employment to all classes of labor. Oshkosh has now over 300 prosperous manufacturing concerns. Every one of them is in need of more help. Conditions are such that they must rapidly train unskilled labor into skilled help to care for increased production. This means quick advancement—higher wages. For a man with a family the situation offers unusual advantages. He can not only find employment for himself but also for his sons and daughters.

In Oshkosh the majority of workmen own their own homes. Churches of all denominations are thriving—schools are the best—stores carry large and complete stocks of all commodities supplied from local wholesale houses which equal those of the larger cities. Rents are low—property reasonable now but will rapidly increase in value. Splendid street car service reaches all parts of the city—5 cent fare during time men are going and coming from work. Up-to-date Interurban Cars afford rapid transportation to surrounding cities at low rate. Oshkosh, one of the most beautiful and healthful cities in the country, is situated in the famous Fox River Valley on the shores of beautiful Lake Winnebago in the heart of one of the richest agricultural districts in the world. It is a country seat. Within a radius of 50 miles there are 200,000 people. Its manufacturing industries send their products all over the world. It is the home of the largest match factory—the largest sash, door and blind factory—the center of hardwood and veneer door production. Shipping facilities are excellent, via lake or rail.

Oshkosh is famous as a summer resort. People come from all over the country to spend their vacations here. Its shady, parklike streets, handsome public buildings, comfortable homes, splendid police and fire departments, excellent gas and electric lighting systems, make it at once a safe, pleasant and economical place to live. There are plenty of amusements both outdoor and indoor—good theatres and short, easy, inexpensive trips up the lake or into the country.

You're Safe In Buying United Clothes

You may be a good lawyer or banker, an expert mechanic or a well-to-do farmer and yet not know the value of clothing, for not one man in a hundred can tell by looking at a garment whether it will give satisfactory service. It's best therefore to buy clothing which has gained a reputation after standing the test of years. United Clothes have been made by the Richman Bros. Co. of Cleveland for thirty years. They operate one of the largest clothing manufacturing plants in the world and there are no better clothes made.

United Clothes are priced at

Ten, Fifteen and Twenty Dollars

They can be seen at no other store in town, as we have the exclusive sale.

WAUSAU COUNTRY CLUB WILL ERECT NEW HOME

Unique Structure to Be Built on the Shores of Artificial Lake

The plans of the Wausau County club's proposed clubhouse to be located at Schofield, three miles south of here, on a site adjoining Rothschild park and overlooking Lake Wausau which will be created by the Marathon Paper Mills company, provide for a unique structure.

It will be 109 feet in length by 43 feet wide, one story in height, of frame, brick, and stucco construction,
and will embody all the conveniences
of a classic city residence, and in addition a number of new features in the clubhouse lines, chief among which will be a sun room at the south end.

In the basement will be the kitchen,
pantry, dining room, heating plant, etc. On the main floor will be lavatories for men and women, an assembly room 25x50 feet, women and men's reception rooms, men's locker, and the sun room. Verandas will run along part way on two sides. The little elevation contains a balcony and two resting rooms.

The roof will be covered with green cypress shingles. The pillars will be of red brick and the rest of the exterior finish will be of wood. The floors will be of hardwood, as well as all of the interior finish. The cost of the structure is estimated at $6,000.

Besides the extensive golf links and the club will arrange three tennis courts. It will also have a boat house and will reserve an area of land along the roadway for automobiles.—Record-Herald.

WHAT A SUMMER COLD MAY DO

A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season.
Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system."

WAY TO KILL DANDELIONS

As dandelions seem to be getting more numerous year after year,
we clip the following from an exchange telling how to get rid of them: Dandelions in the lawn may be destroyed by a few sprayings with iron sulphite, one and one fourth lbs to the gallon of water. Spray everything. The grass will turn black but will soon recover and after a watering and mowing will appear darker green than before, while the dandelions will die out. Do not let the solution get onto cement walks
as it will discolor them.

GLAD TO RECOMMEND THEM

Mr. E. Weakley, Kokomo, Ind., says: "After taking Foley's Kidney Pills, the severe backache left me,
my kidneys became stronger, the secretions natural and my bladder no longer pained me. I am glad to recommend Foley's Kidney Pills." In a yellow package.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Late Monday afternoon Mrs. Mike Keely, North Side, tried to commit suicide by jumping into Boom Lake.
Chas. Davis, a witness to the attempt, immediately plunged in, but was forced to dive in order to rescue the drowning woman. Mrs. Keely has a family and it is generally believed that she was at least temporarily insane when she planned to take her life.

Pete Seibel left Monday for Martinez where he will transact business.

LACROSSE PEOPLE

FINE ENTERTAINERS

The Business Men's Association of LaCrosse know how to do things. At the opening meeting of the County Superintendents of the state at La Crosse last Thursday morning, the secretary of the association was present and urged all members of the meeting to accept an automobile ride
at the close of the afternoon session
and a theatre party at the Majestic Theatre in the evening. The superintendents were shown the city and surrounding country and were then taken to the new school of agriculture, manual training and domestic science where demonstrations were going on in the various lines of work.
The theatre party was a most pleasant affair.

It is said that a few years ago
business was dull in La Crosse but if such were the case things have changed.

They have a fine new hotel, splendid streets, prosperous looking stores and the activity of the business part is noticeable and a splendid feature is the fact that the people know how to give strangers a good impression
and make them feel welcome.
La Crosse is a good place to visit
to get a lesson in hospitality.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

Brooks—The Social Unrest. Studies
in labor and socialist movements.
The author is one of the foremost of the American economists of the present time. The book has a depth of conviction, an earnestness of purpose and a love of truth which makes it
one of the most convincing and convincing books of recent years. From a review we quote, "No where else, so far as we are aware, can the reader gain so quickly a comprehension of the ideas and aspirations of the struggling classes, for Mr. Brooks has studied their ideas and aspirations with a sympathy rare among the privileged classes, and has interpreted them to the reading public with a skill still more rare among the wage-earners." He has given the better part of his life to the study of social unrest. His investigations have not merely chiefly been made in libraries. These too, he has made, and made thoroughly, but they serve merely as the background for the facts he has learned from men in high circles and low—
the facts which are molding the thoughts of today.

Heart—Japan. An interpretation of the country principally ancestor worship, and its effect upon the lives and thoughts of the Japanese. The mass of details on the religious and moral life gleaned by Mr. Heart through long years of intimate and sympathetic acquaintance with the Japanese, will prove invaluable to the student of religion or sociology,
and interesting reading to all who care for mental travel.

Hillis—The Quest of Happiness. A study of victory over life's troubles.
Doubleday—Birds that Every Child Should Know. Finely Illustrated.
Mable—Heroines that Every Child Should Know.

Thompson—Water Wonders Every Child Should Know. Little studies of dew, frost, snow, ice and rain. A most useful book in which the children will find great interest. The photographic illustrations are especially beautiful.

BASE BALL NOTES

A picked nine from this city, played
Eagle River at the latter place,
Saturday, Rhinelander coming out ahead. Roy Lally was in the box doing the "pepping" and Don Vaughan behind the bat with Rooney on first where he made some grand stand plays. The score was 3 to 1
at the end of the ninth inning.

The White Sox of this city played two games Sunday, one at Elcho
where they were victorious with a score of 8 to 0—the other at Monico
where they won out, the score being 38 to 12.

Tellsford Belle and Will Snow left Tuesday for Monico where they will be engaged this season with the Monico base ball team.

ASSISTANT STATE

SUPERINTENDENT IN CITY.

J. B. Borden, Assistant State Superintendent of Schools of Madison, Wisconsin, was in the city Monday.
While here Mr. Borden met a joint committee from the city school board and the county school board members.

At the meeting many important questions were taken up and discussed to the enlightenment of those present and the benefit of the schools of the city of Rhinelander and Oneida County. Mr. Borden's experience as Assistant State Superintendent has given him an experience and large fund of knowledge that makes him
most helpful to the school officers with whom he comes in contact. He was of great aid to the joint school board in Rhinelander in settling some knotty problems.

AROUND THE CIRCLE

We understand that Walter Kerber, is quite seriously ill at his home on the "flats."

Something out of the ordinary happened to us Wednesday morning. While we were wending our weary way along the public highway and in peaceful possession of the same, a good sized black bear suddenly appeared upon the scene a few feet in front of our wheel and for a while it was a question who had possession of said highway, brain or I. One was about as startled as the other but when the smoke and dust had cleared away brain was seen "hiking" for the "tail timber." Then and only then did we feel safe.

The farmers in the vicinity of our city are commencing to realize that properly stocking their farms with a better class of cattle is the only thing that will keep it in the proper condition and now a good many of them are supplying our local creamery with their product which is the proper thing to do.
